L.O: From this week onwards, we will be going over past topics.

For your first task, I would like you to list the 5 pillars of Islam in your books with a sentence describing what each pillar means.

3. _____
4. _____
5. _____

Then, I would like you to read the text below and answer the following questions:

As you know, Allah sent prophets (Nabis) to guide human beings. This was because human beings have limited knowledge and are unable to guide themselves without Allah's help. All Prophets came with the same message, they would ask the people around them to obey and worship Allah alone - this is the message of 'La ilaha illallah'. The prophets also taught, trained, and guided these people about how to follow the way of Allah and of Islam. Now that you have read this, try to answer the following questions:

What did Allah send prophets to this world?

What is the message of 'La ilaha illallah'?

---

Can you give an example of a specific prophet and how he encouraged people to accept Islam? _____

---

Now that you have done this, try to recall the steps of Tayammum to fill out these boxes. If you are stuck, use your exercise books or watch this video to help jog your memory.

Home Learning: Revision

L.O: Today we are going to recap our knowledge on the 5 basic duties or Pillars of Islam and Tayyamum.

Before we start, list the 5 pillars of Islam in your books.

As we know, Tawheed is the most important belief in Islam because it means that everyone on this earth and everything around us, has been created by Allah and only Allah. This is because He is the most powerful - He has no partners, children or parents. This is mentioned in the shahadah when we declare that 'there is no God but Allah, and Muhammad (s.a.w) is Allah's messenger'. Saying and believing this in our hearts is a very important duty for ALL muslims.

Now that you have read this, answer the following questions in your books:

1. Why do you think Tawhid is an important belief for muslims?
2. Can you give any examples of when muslims tend to say or recite the shahadah?
3. What is the Arabic saying for 'there is no God but Allah, and Muhammad (s.a.w) is Allah's messenger'?

Salah is the most important of the 5 pillars of Islam, after shahadah. This is because by performing Salah correctly, we are carrying out our daily duty and therefore gain rewards and become closer to Allah. Copy the following statements into your books and label them as true (T) or false (F):

Salah brings both men and women closer to Allah.

Salah is a constant reminder of Allah and His greatness.

Salah is the most important pillar of Islam.

Salah helps us keep away from sinful and forbidden activities.

There are no benefits to salah.

The last 3 pillars are Zakah, Sawm and Hajj. Copy the table and answer the questions in each column.

Zakah:	Sawm:	Hajj:
What is Zakah? When and how is this paid? Is Zakah compulsory? Why do muslims pay Zakah? Who does Zakah go to?	What is Sawm? When does fasting start and finish? Which month do muslims fast in? Is this compulsory? What can we learn from fasting?	Where do muslims go to for Hajj? Is this compulsory or optional? In which month do muslims perform Hajj? Why do muslims do this, what is the purpose?

There are certain situations where it is allowed or permissible for us to perform Salah with Tayammum. Read all the boxes below and identify which statements are correct. Once you have done this, write these down in your exercise books.

Tayammum can be used when the water available is insufficient for Wudu. An example of this can be when we are travelling and only carrying a small amount of water with us.

We can use Tayammum when water is not available to us.

It can be used when using water for Wudu could be harmful. E.g When we are sick or have a particular illness.

Tayammum can be used when we feel lazy or too cold to use water for Wudu.

Now that you have done this, try to recall the steps of Tayammum to fill out these boxes. If you are stuck, use your exercise books or watch this video to help jog your memory.
